Emergency evacuation procedures specify procedures for handling sudden or unexpected situations in the workplace necessitating an evacuation. Its purpose is to help the employees to be prepared to safely evacuate the premises when an emergency situation arise.

How to raise an alarm in order to notify everyone of an emergency Nearest alarm call points for activating alarm Shortest evacuation routes to a safe place Locations of designated assembly points Locations and types of firefighting equipment Nearest first aid and spill kits

Procedure to be followed during an emergency

Stop all activities immediately

Gather the emergency roll call list (an updated copy should be readily available) SHE reps and fire marshals must assess that all persons can safely evacuate the premises

Follow EXIT signs or evacuation coordinators (SHE reps, fire marshals) to the nearest safe exit

Do not use the lift but the stairs (assist persons who may be impaired to use the stairs)Allow others to enter the stairwell in an orderly fashion to avoid stampede Steer clear of hazards

Move away from the building as far as possible (at least 10 meters from the building) Be of help to anyone who may need assistance along the way and account for everyone, including visitors and contractors

Do not re-enter the building without an "all clear" from the evacuation controller (the compliance or SHE officer fulfils this function at Crown)

How to prepare for emergency situations

Know your risks

Build a team

Make critical information quickly accessible (such as MSDS files and emergency contacts)

Update your alert and response procedures regularly
